Subject: Upper Holloway Bridge replacement update: A1 Holloway Road re-open in both directions

Dear Stakeholder

The A1 Holloway Road has now re-opened to traffic in both directions on schedule, following the completion of works to demolish and replace Upper Holloway Bridge over the Christmas and New Year period.

As planned, one lane remains closed in each direction for safety reasons. This is while we complete the final stage of work to the bridge and prepare Upper Holloway station for re-opening. We are ahead of our project schedule and will complete the works to coincide with the planned re-opening of Upper Holloway station in early spring.

We apologise again for the disruption and inconvenience in recent months and thank you for your patience while the final works are completed.

Please visit tfl.gov.uk/upper-holloway-bridge for further information about the project and travel advice.

Changes to bus services at Archway

Bus services in the area have returned to their normal routes along the A1 Holloway Road.

As you may be aware, there have also been changes to bus services at Archway. From today, the following permanent stopping arrangements will be in place for bus routes via Upper Holloway:

Route 17

- Towards Archway - new stop D in Holloway Road
- Towards London Bridge - stop R in Sandridge Street

Route 43

- Towards Friern Barnet - new stop D in Holloway Road
- Towards London Bridge - stop R in Sandridge Street

Route 263

- Towards Barnet Hospital - new stop D in Holloway Road
- Towards Highbury & Islington - stop R in Sandridge Street

Route 271

- Towards Highgate Village - new stop D in Holloway Road and new stop E in Tollhouse Way
- Towards Moorgate - stop R in Sandridge Street

Route N41

- Towards Tottenham Hale - new stop D in Holloway Road
- Towards Trafalgar Square - stop R in Sandridge Street

All other bus routes in the area are already serving their permanent stops at Archway. Maps and signage have been updated in the area, while travel advisors remain on-site at Archway to help passengers. #### Lane closures near Highbury Corner from 17 January

As you may know, we are also working outside Highbury & Islington station and in the surrounding area to rebuild the bridge that carries the A1 over the railway lines.

These works have been limited temporarily while the A1 Holloway Road has been closed near Upper Holloway station, to avoid additional disruption in the area. As the A1 has now re-opened in both directions at Upper Holloway, the works at Highbury Corner are planned to resume.

Temporary lane restrictions are planned on the A1 Holloway Road, between the junction with Digswell Street and Highbury Corner gyratory, from 17 January until late March 2017. There will be one lane open in each direction at all times.

Please visit tfl.gov.uk/highbury-corner for further information about these works.
