The date noted on the TED site for the return of your MSQ response is incorrect and we have already submitted an update to the PIN, which has been actioned this morning (see attached). The actual deadline to return your response is 17:00 on Friday 26 April.

Please see attached MSQ and we more than welcome a response.

Thanks for your interest.

Kind regards

I notice that the initial responses were due to be in last week.

Is it possible that I can submit something by tomorrow and still be included please?

We have an [REDACTED] solution that can really help here and we are a global ISV partner of Microsoft so can allow you to take advantage of your Azure investment.

Please let me know.

Many thanks
