Welcome to the Big Red Book

The population of London is growing and demand for the bus service is at its greatest since the 1950s. As passenger numbers increase, our responsibility to carry passengers safely, reliably and comfortably is also becoming more important.

This latest edition of the Big Red Book contains new and updated guidance to help you continue to deliver the high standards our customers expect.

We've added and updated guidance, but can't cover all possibilities. If you're in doubt about how to handle a situation, think about how you would like to be treated and you will have the answer. Often customers just want to be kept informed, so we have included a new section on page 46 about using your PA for this purpose.

Thank you for your contribution towards making the bus service in London world class.

Managing Director, Surface Transport

Frequently asked questions

This section provides answers
to issues around:

Wheelchair users

Passengers with buggies

Serving bus stops

Passengers who cannot pay

Frequently asked questions

This section provides answers to many of the issues we know you face and customers tell us about:

- ◆ Wheelchair users
- ◆ Passengers with buggies
- ◆ Serving bus stops
- ◆ Passengers who cannot pay or are having trouble with their Oyster card

There are more detailed answers to these issues further on in the book but here is a brief summary plus details of where to find more information.

Top questions asked

1. What do I do if there are people or buggies in the wheelchair area and a wheelchair user wants to board?

Wheelchair users are to be given access to the wheelchair space even if it is occupied by other passengers or buggies. Use the iBus automated announcement to make it clear that the wheelchair space is needed. If necessary, politely but firmly ask the buggy owners to move or fold their buggies to let the wheelchair user into the area as this is the only safe place for them to travel. Explain you will give them the time they need to do this and be patient and polite. Do not move off until they are re-positioned.

Sometimes it is possible for a wheelchair and an unfolded buggy to share the space. You should allow this provided the wheelchair user is in the correct position and the buggy does not block the gangway.

See 'The basics' page 33

2. What do I do if a passenger wants to board with a buggy and there are already buggies on board?

Generally, it is safe to have two unfolded buggies in the space depending on their size. However, there is no fixed rule on the maximum number of buggies allowed because every situation is different - it depends on the size of the buggy, the space available and how full your bus is. Only ask passengers to move or fold their buggy down if space is needed by a wheelchair user or if it will cause an obstruction.

There is no restriction on the number of folded buggies as long as they do not block the aisle.

See 'The basics' page 33

3. Why should I pick up passengers if they don't put their hand out at the bus stop?

Whether it is day or night, if there is someone at the bus stop, you have to stop. If you are sure nobody is waiting for your bus, or wants to get off, you can keep going. If in doubt, stop. The policy changed because some passengers may not know they need to put their hand out or they might be visually impaired making it difficult for them to know which bus they should flag down.

See 'The basics' page 19

4. Do I have to stop more than once at busy bus stops?

You may need to. Older customers or those with mobility or visual impairments frequently tell us that it is hard for them to board their bus at busy bus stops. Often, this is because buses pull up behind others already at the stop, which may be some distance from where passengers are waiting.

You must always make sure that passengers who want your bus have an opportunity to board before you pull away. Do not move off or pull round other buses in front of you until you have checked to see all passengers waiting for your bus have boarded. This may mean you need to pull forward nearer to the stop.

5. What if a passenger has a problem with their Oyster card?

If the card is not working, there is little you can do to solve the problem, but always be patient and polite. Ask the passenger to try again, touching their card flat on the yellow target of the reader. If it still does not work, use the information on the ETM display to explain what is wrong and print it out if necessary.

- ◆ Passengers can get help to sort the problem out at:
 - ◇ tfl.gov.uk/oyster
 - ◇ Tube ticket offices
 - ◇ The Oyster helpline on 0845 330 9876

- ◆ If the passenger still wants to travel they will have to pay the cash fare. In the Pay Before You Board (PBYB) area, passengers must buy tickets before they board

- ◆ Freedom Pass holders do not have to pay if their card is not working, except if it has been stopped. Otherwise, check the expiry date, make sure their photocard is a true likeness, let them board and advise them to get a replacement Freedom Pass

- ◆ If a passenger says there should be more money on their Oyster card, it could be for a number of reasons and there is little you can do. They must pay a fare if they want to travel and contact the Oyster Helpline or the place where they got their card to sort out the problem. A receipt is not valid for travel

The basics

28.....What can you allow on board?

33.....Buggies

35.....Using your Mobile Data
Terminal (MDT)

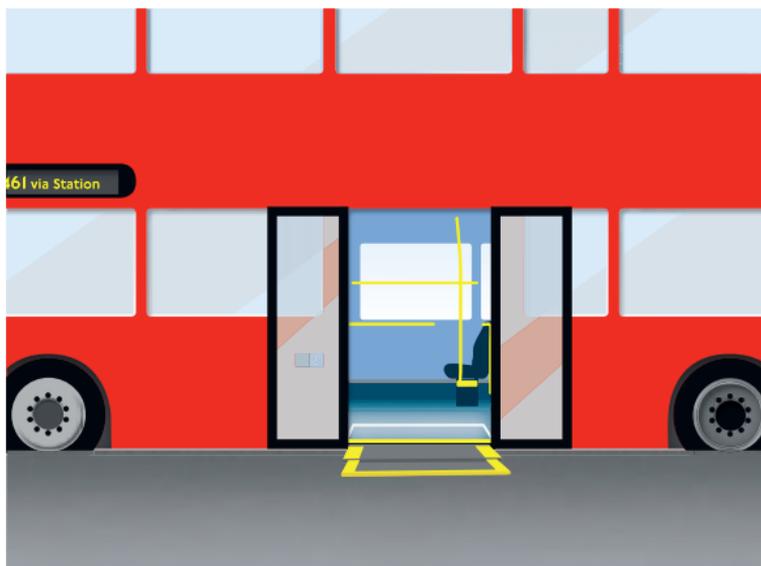

The basics

Customer expectations of the bus service are increasing, so being a professional is key to delivering the high standards needed for London's bus service to be regarded as 'World Class'. This section contains guidance to help you maintain these high standards.

A typical journey

Before you leave the garage...

1. Complete your walk round checks and make sure your wheelchair ramp is working. If there is a problem with the ramp you must report it and it should be repaired or your bus substituted before you leave the garage.

2. Remember to sign on your ETM module.
 3. You also need to make sure your iBus and Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) are working. Visual and audio announcements on iBus make it much easier for disabled passengers as well as those less familiar with the network to use the buses. This is why you must make sure iBus is switched on at all times, unless authorised not to by your service controller.

Having iBus on also means passengers will ask you fewer questions. Please report any faults with iBus as soon as possible via your service controller, so we can get them fixed.

4. You should be smartly dressed in your company's uniform and must not wear your hi-vi while driving.
5. Make sure you have a cash float to cover reasonable amounts presented by passengers during your shift, as this ensures you are able to give change and helps avoid conflict.

On the road...

1. Always drive with the safety and comfort of your passengers in mind.
2. You must not eat or drink, use a mobile phone or listen to headphones or a radio whilst driving or in charge of the bus.

3. Do not chat to anyone (including colleagues) or allow yourself to be distracted while driving. While you are driving, if a passenger asks you a question, explain you will answer their question when you have stopped.
4. Make sure all the blinds on your bus are set correctly and are easy to read for each journey. If it is dark, the blinds should be lit. If the lights are not working, report this to your garage.
5. Keep your dashboard clean and clear.

As your bus reaches the stop...

1. Keep an eye out for intending passengers at all times. You must stop to pick up anyone waiting to board your bus:
 - ◆ No matter what kind of stop it is (red or white stop flag)
 - ◆ Whether they have put their hand out or not
 - ◆ Any time, day or night

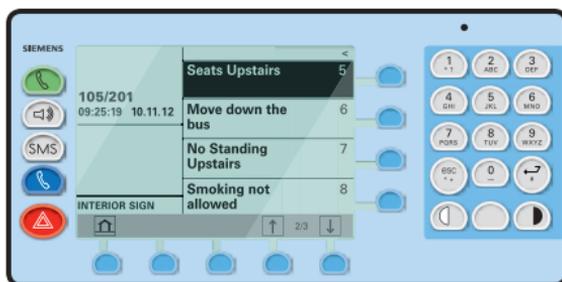

The reason for this is that visitors to London or people with visual or other hidden impairments may not know they have to put their hand out or may not be able to.

2. Look and listen out for passengers intending to get off. Ideally they will let you know they wish to get off by ringing the bell but be prepared to stop in case they do not.

If you are sure no-one wants to get on or off you can keep going. If in doubt, stop.

3. Pull in close to the kerb at bus stops wherever possible. Before you open the doors, assess whether passengers will need you to kneel the bus, especially if they have to step up onto the platform. You must kneel the bus if someone asks you.
4. Make sure you stop within the bus stop road markings and move forward to pick up passengers if it is a large stop for more than one bus. Do not move off or pull round other buses until you are sure you have picked up all your passengers.

5. If something is delaying you from reaching the stop, you can let passengers off, providing it is safe to do so. Use your public address (PA) system to let your passengers know. If possible, ask them to leave using the front doors so you can make sure they are safe. This will be appreciated by customers and will help avoid conflict.
6. Make sure all the passengers who want to get off are safely clear of your bus before you close the doors.
7. Before moving off, make sure all passengers who boarded are sitting down or holding on safely, especially those who are older, disabled or with young children.
8. Check to see where there is space on your bus. On a double deck bus, if there are seats on the upper deck encourage customers to go upstairs by playing the pre-recorded iBus announcement or use your PA system (for help on what to say see page 46). If your bus begins to fill up with standing passengers, ask them politely to move down using the pre-recorded iBus announcement or your PA system.

9. Be prepared to give a little extra time or help to passengers that need it, such as writing things down, confirming they are on the right bus or facing them so they can lip-read.

Some passengers may show you the new Travel Support Card, which explains that they need some additional help. (For more information see page 56.)

Checking tickets...

1. If a passenger pays by cash, issue a ticket and give the right change. Ensure you start each shift with a float to cover reasonable amounts presented by passengers as this will lead to fewer problems. (For more information see page 120.)
2. If you are shown a printed ticket, you should check for the following:

3. If an Oyster card is used, listen for the beeps and check the information on your ticket machine.

Questions from passengers...

1. If you are asked 'Where does this bus go to?' or 'Do you go past a Tube station?' do your best to answer in a helpful way.

Letting passengers off the bus...

1. Pull up close enough to the kerb so all passengers can step from the bus directly on to the pavement. If you have a wheelchair user on board you must pull into the kerb so the ramp can be extended correctly. You may use a different part of the kerb if the bus stop is blocked.
2. On Hail & Ride routes with no fixed bus stops you should only stop where it is safe to do so. Avoid grass verges, street corners, and bends in the road where your view is limited or where you could block other road users.

When you are at a bus stand...

1. You must switch off your engine. Leaving it running wastes fuel, is a noise nuisance and damages health. London Boroughs may also issue you with an on-the-spot penalty.

If your journey is disrupted

Diversions

1. Check at the garage for any planned diversions at the start of your duty and make sure you are familiar with the revised route.

For unplanned diversions in service, always contact your service controller and follow their instructions. If you're unsure where to go, call CentreComm using Code Red.

2. For both planned and unplanned diversions you must tell your passengers what is going on. Use the public address (PA) system to keep them informed. Do not rely on iBus as we will not always be able to update the on-board next stop information.

For more help with using the PA system, including what to say and when to say it see page 46.

3. On diversions, you must serve all bus stops if passengers want to get on or off.

If your bus breaks down or is curtailed

1. Use the PA system to apologise and tell your passengers you will help them on their way as soon as possible.
2. Using the PA system, you will need to tell passengers who have paid cash or used Oyster pay as you go that they can transfer onto another London bus service going the same way at no extra cost.

3. Remind Oyster pay as you go users not to touch in on the next bus.
 4. Try to make sure all passengers are transferred to another bus and give your Transfer ticket to the driver of the next bus. Keep a special look out for disabled passengers or those who may need a little extra help from you.

For more help on what to say over the PA system see page 46.

How to issue a Transfer ticket...

Issue an inspector's ticket for '9999' and give it to the driver of the bus picking up your passengers. You may have to do this with more than one bus, until all your passengers have been picked up.

What can you allow on board?

Say yes to:

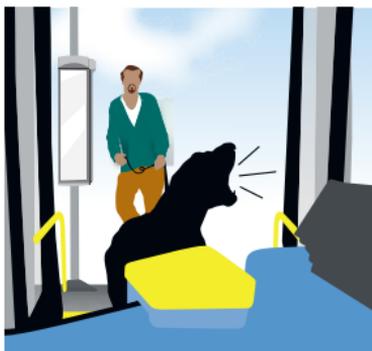

1. Guide dogs and other assistance dogs – you must allow them on board, and there is no limit to the number of assistance dogs you should allow on.

Say yes to:

2. Other dogs and inoffensive animals – only refuse them if they are dangerous and use your discretion if you are asked to carry more than one per deck. Dogs should be under control and on a lead.

All dogs may travel on any deck of the bus.

Say yes to:

3. Oxygen cylinders – which passengers may be transporting for medical purposes.

4. Bicycles which fold up and can be carried.

Say no to:

1. Open bottles or cans of alcohol.
2. Open containers or those leaking fluid, such as open tins of paint.
3. Anything hazardous or inflammable, such as petrol cans.
4. Unfolded bicycles.
5. Other items including:
 - ◆ Anything likely to cause injury or offence
 - ◆ Items more than two metres long
 - ◆ Anything one passenger cannot carry by themselves

If you decide you cannot allow something on board, apologise and politely explain why.

Buggies

We know the number of people with buggies wanting to travel on your bus can be difficult to manage sometimes. The following guidelines are designed to help you cope with these situations at busy times.

When there is more than one buggy

1. Generally, it is safe to have two unfolded buggies in the wheelchair space depending on their size. However, there is no fixed number of buggies allowed because each situation is different – it depends on the size of the buggy, the space available, and how full your bus is. Only ask passengers to move or fold down their buggy if the space is needed by a wheelchair user or if it will cause an obstruction. Do not move off until they are re-positioned.
2. Single buggies should board by the front door only. However, if they wish to board by the middle door because their buggy is too large to use the front door they must ask your permission first. Users will still need to touch their Oyster card, show you a ticket or pay a fare.
3. Sometimes it is possible for a wheelchair user and an unfolded buggy to share the space. You should allow this provided the wheelchair user is in the correct position and the buggy does not block the gangway.

Dealing with double buggies

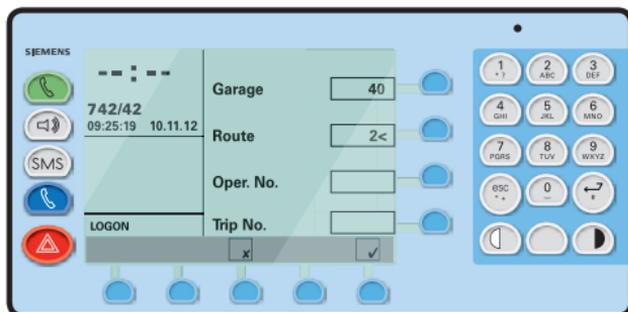

Passengers with double buggies can board by the centre doors, as it is too difficult for them to get on at the front. Passengers must ask your permission first and users will still need to touch their Oyster card, show you a ticket or pay a fare.

Using your Mobile Data Terminal

Make sure your Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) logs on at the same time as your ETM. It is important you log on to your ETM correctly using the details on your duty card. This ensures your journeys can be tracked and appear on passenger Countdown signs as well as the live bus departures website.

If you need to sign on to the iBus MDT separately from the ETM, enter your details as below:

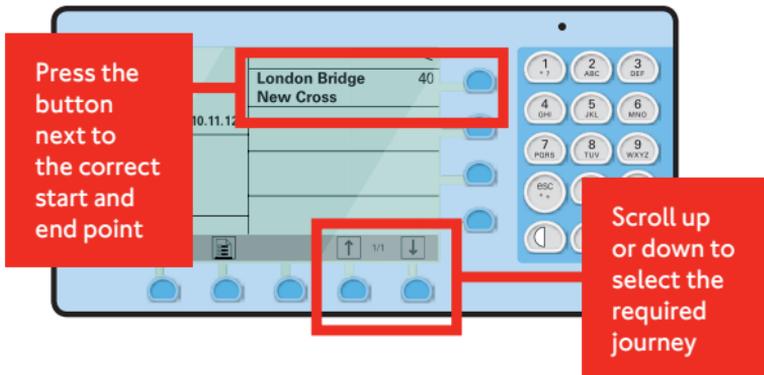

You may also need to use the following process to ensure your MDT is fully operational and you have proper radio communications with your garage.

1. Enter a route variant.

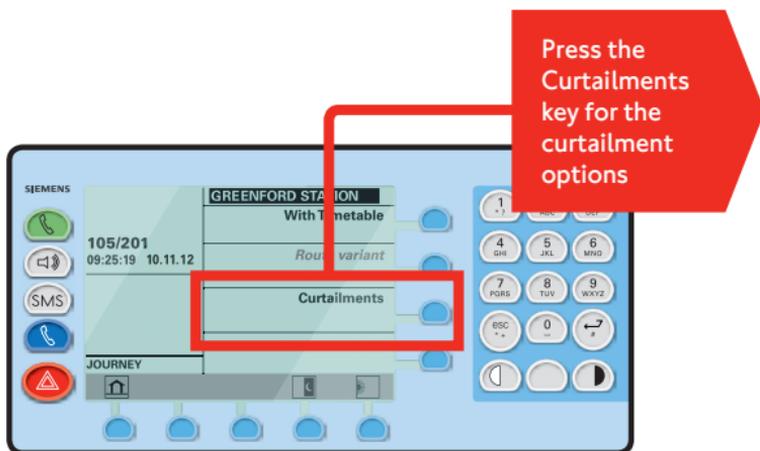

2. Select where your journey starts and where it ends.

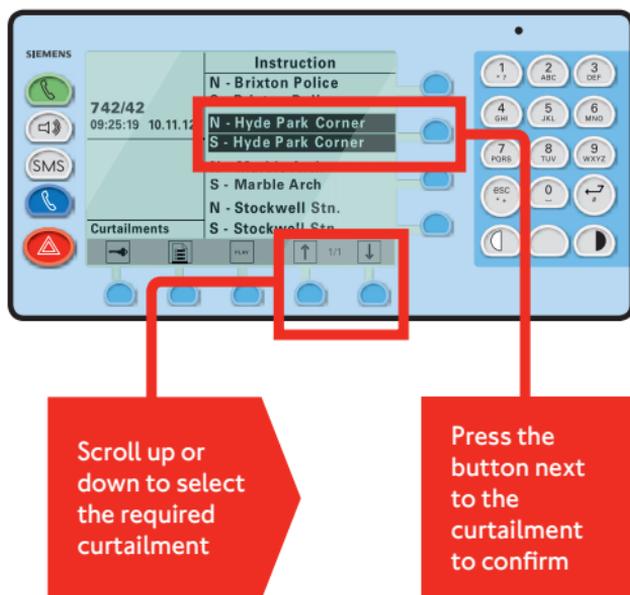

3. Then do the same when you enter the details for your return trip.

Driver-entered curtailments

If you need to enter a curtailment, proceed as follows. After a short while you will get a confirmation screen:

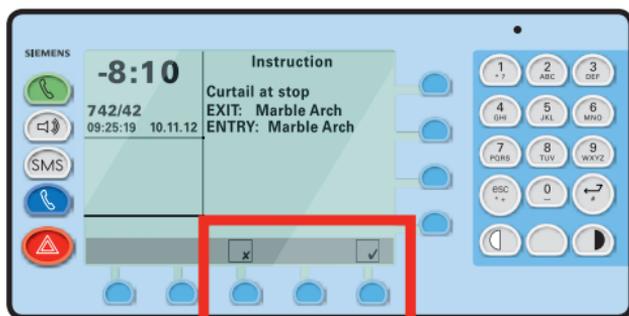

- ◆ Acknowledge the instruction as shown on page 39 or select 'no' if there is a mistake and the service controller needs to re-set the instruction for you
- ◆ When acknowledged, the destination announcement will change

Curtailments by Service Controller

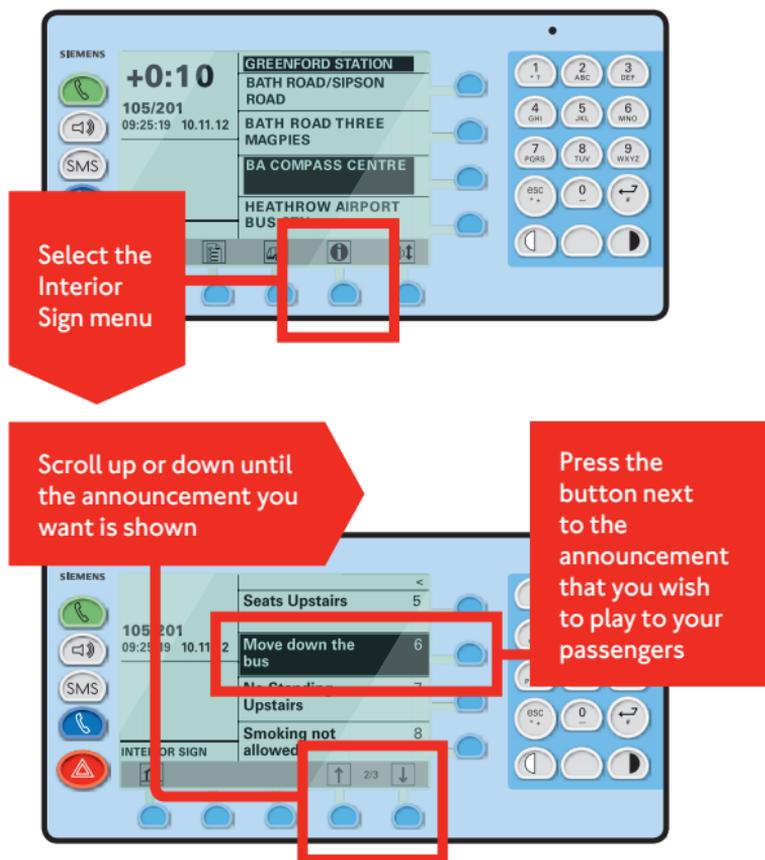

Curtailments by a Service Controller are shown to you as an instruction, which will include an authorisation code:

Acknowledge the instruction, and only press 'no' if there is a mistake

Remember when you are running out of service back to the garage, you must log off from your MDT to ensure mileage is recorded correctly and your bus does not appear on passenger Countdown signs and the live bus departures website.

Using pre-recorded announcements

For more on this topic, see pages 46 and 49.

More than just a driver

Being a professional bus driver requires more than just giving your passengers a safe, smooth ride. This section gives you guidance on other aspects of your job which will help you keep up your status as a professional.

Other road users

There are many more cyclists using London's roads and you should take special care to ensure you are aware of cyclists at all times. Look out for Barclays Cycle Superhighways across the Capital, and Barclays Cycle Hire users in central and eastern areas.

1. Give all cyclists space as you overtake (about half the width of your bus, or 1.2m) and do not cut in on cyclists as you approach bus stops.

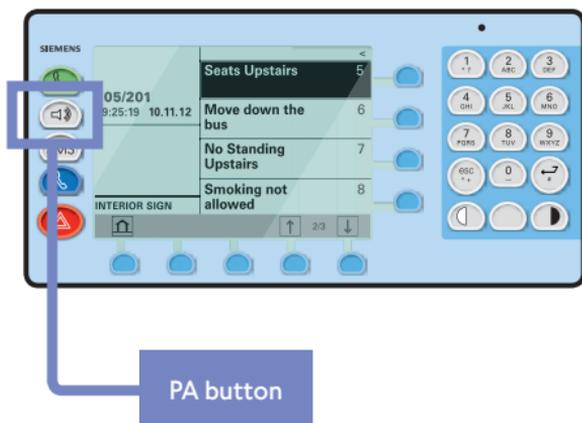

2. Do not stop in the Advanced Stop Box. It must be left clear for cyclists.
3. Remember to watch out for motorcyclists, who can now use certain bus lanes.
4. Watch out for pedestrians and keep your speed low. Use dipped headlights, especially in contra-flow bus lanes and central areas, such as Oxford Street or Piccadilly. Your company may ask you to use dipped headlights at all times.
5. At road junctions, be aware of other large vehicles such as lorries. Like buses, they need a wide area to turn.
6. Remember, taxis can use bus lanes so be prepared to stop if they are picking up or setting down passengers.

Using the public address system

It is important to keep passengers informed when things go wrong as this helps them and reduces hassle for you. The public address (PA) system is the best way to do this.

You can also use the PA system together with the pre-recorded iBus messages to help you move passengers down the bus or out of the wheelchair space.

You will usually need to give your passengers advanced warning of disruption. For example, on a diversion, tell them at least twice what is happening; first, a few stops before the start of a diversion and again at the stop closest to the start of the revised routing.

The benefits to you are:

- ◆ You can stay in the cab and talk to all your passengers at once
- ◆ You feel more in control of the situation
- ◆ Passengers see you as a professional
- ◆ You will be asked fewer questions

The benefits to your passengers are:

- ◆ It gives them back control of their journey and allows them to make alternative plans
- ◆ It makes them feel safer (for example, women at night)
- ◆ They can let other people know they may be delayed

Here are some simple guidelines to help you:

1. Before you speak, close the doors so people can hear you.
2. Think about the information you need to tell your passengers and the best place to tell them – write it down if you need to and keep the message short and simple.

3. Make sure you are facing the microphone and start with something like 'this is your driver speaking'.
 4. Speak slowly and clearly and do not use jargon such as RTA (Road Traffic Accident).
 5. Practice when nobody is on the bus. You can also try a non-urgent message such as 'this bus will terminate at the next stop. Please take your belongings with you.' This will give you the confidence to use it when needed.

Some drivers have said they are worried because English is not their first language or they do not feel comfortable using the PA system. Remember, many passengers also do not have English as a first language but everyone will appreciate your efforts in giving them information to help them on their way. Just speak slowly and clearly.

Pre-recorded announcements

As well as the PA system iBus can help you communicate with your passengers. You can use iBus to let passengers know about stop closures or a change of driver. Also, you can ask them to move down the bus or out of the wheelchair space, amongst other things. If your bus is busy, you can also let them know that seats are available on the upper deck.

The pre-recorded iBus announcements also help in situations where conflict might occur. For example, if you suspect anti-social behaviour on your bus, play the announcement 'CCTV is in operation on this bus'.

For information on how to use your MDT to play these announcements, see page 40.

The pre-recorded announcements on iBus are:

- ◆ Bus terminates here. Please take your belongings with you
- ◆ Bus on diversion. Please listen for further announcements
- ◆ Change of destination. Please listen for further information
- ◆ The next bus stop is closed
- ◆ Seats are available on the upper deck
- ◆ Please move down inside the bus
- ◆ No standing on the upper deck or stairs
- ◆ Smoking is not permitted on London's buses
- ◆ Drinking alcohol is not permitted on London's buses
- ◆ Can passengers please make space in the wheelchair area
- ◆ CCTV is in operation on this bus
- ◆ Bus will wait here whilst drivers are changed

This list may change from time to time, so please check your MDT and look out for notices in your garage.

57..... Boarding procedure for wheelchair users

Older and disabled passengers

Following the guidelines below will help all your passengers, especially those who are older or disabled:

1. Pull in close to the kerb at bus stops wherever possible. Before you open the doors, assess whether or not kneeling the bus will help your passengers, especially if they have to step up onto the platform.
2. You must also kneel the bus:
 - ◆ If someone asks
 - ◆ You can see somebody needs it
3. Older and disabled passengers may need more time to board; kneeling the bus will help. For their safety, please be patient and make sure they are holding on or are seated before you move off.
4. Remember, not all impairments can be seen, so never make assumptions and do not question anyone's entitlement to a Disabled Person's Freedom Pass. For example, they may have a hearing impairment, mental health issue or a learning disability.
5. Be ready to offer help. This could be something as simple as writing things down, giving some passengers a little extra time or facing them so they can lip read.

Visually impaired passengers

- ◆ If someone with a visual impairment boards your bus, ask where they are going so you can tell them when you reach their stop. Some blind people use a white cane, but not always. Passengers who are blind and deaf may use a white cane with red stripes
- ◆ Let them know the route number of your bus and where your bus is going. Even though iBus announces the destination, it will only do so once the passenger is on board, so it can be reassuring to hear you confirm it
- ◆ Let a visually impaired person know where there is a seat – for example, 'There's a seat on your left' rather than 'Over there'
- ◆ Blind and partially sighted people with guide dogs do not need to show a ticket or photocard

Assistance dogs

Assistance dogs are specially trained to help disabled people travel more independently. As well as guide dogs for blind and partially sighted people other assistance dogs help people with for example, autism, epilepsy or a hearing impairment. All assistance dogs are welcomed onto London's buses. Look out for their distinctive jackets or harnesses and be patient and ready to offer help when boarding.

As long as there is space, there is no limit on the number of assistance dogs you can allow and they may travel on any deck of the bus. The assistance dog user will be trained to ensure that the dog does not bother other passengers.

Travel Support Card

- ◆ TfL have introduced a Travel Support Card which passengers may show you
- ◆ Inside the card is a space for people to write down a short message which will ask you for help. It has been made clear to users that you are not expected to get out of your cab to do this
- ◆ The card can be used by any disabled passenger but is mainly aimed at people with communication difficulties or who might lack confidence in asking staff for help
- ◆ An example of what the card might be used for and what it looks like is shown below

How you can help me: Please tell me if I'm on the right bus for Victoria Station? Thank you.	My name is: Simon Brown My emergency contact number is: 07123 456789 <small>This is not a ticket and does not entitle the holder to any discount.</small>

Boarding procedure for wheelchair users

Wheelchair users are to be given access to the dedicated space even if it is occupied by buggies and other passengers.

Remember it is often stressful travelling on the bus if using a wheelchair as there are a number of challenges to overcome. Your professionalism and patience will ensure the journey for a wheelchair user is more successful.

When there's a wheelchair user at a bus stop

1. Pull in close to the kerb and ensure your bus is not parked where obstacles on the pavement such as litter bins or railings will obstruct the ramp.
2. Acknowledge the wheelchair user.
3. You must keep the front doors closed on two-door buses. This ensures the wheelchair user is given priority access and can board in safety and comfort.
4. Check the dedicated space is free. If not, play the pre-recorded iBus message asking for passengers to make room or use your PA system.

5. Let other passengers off then close centre doors and extend the ramp. Re-open the centre doors and let the wheelchair user on. You must make sure they have their back to the backrest and their brakes are applied or motor disengaged if they have one. Give the wheelchair user the time they need to position themselves safely.
 6. Now you can open the front doors to let other passengers on.

Letting the wheelchair user off the bus

- ◆ Listen out in case the wheelchair user tells you where they're going. If not, listen and look for the distinctive bell and dashboard light
- ◆ Use the same procedure, as for boarding, to let a wheelchair user off the bus
- ◆ The most important things to remember are to pull as close into the kerb as you can and to keep the front doors closed. This ensures the wheelchair user can leave the bus in safety and comfort and helps the ramp extend correctly. Be prepared to move to a different part of the kerb if this helps the ramp to extend properly

What if people don't make room?

You must ask passengers to move, using the iBus pre-recorded message. Remember, the dedicated wheelchair space is the only place wheelchair users can travel safely. If other passengers seem unwilling to make space for a wheelchair user:

- ◆ Use the PA system to explain that the wheelchair bay is the only safe place for wheelchair users to travel
- ◆ It can be stressful travelling with children in buggies, so be polite as this is more likely to get passengers to cooperate. Explain you'll give them the time they need to move or fold down their buggy and do not move off until they are safely re-positioned
- ◆ Sometimes it is possible for a wheelchair and an unfolded buggy to share the space. You should allow this provided the wheelchair user is in the correct position and the buggy is not blocking the gangway

If passengers are unwilling to move, despite your request, do not ask them to leave the bus:

- ◆ Do not close the doors and move off until you have explained to the wheelchair user they will need to catch the next bus and the reason why
- ◆ If the wheelchair user has to wait, contact your garage so the driver of the next bus can be made aware

What do I do if the ramp fails...

...while I am in service

If the ramp fails after you have left the garage, your bus can be kept in service but you must contact your garage immediately so they can sort the problem out as soon as possible.

...when the wheelchair user is on board

Reposition your bus and try again, as the ramp may be blocked by the pavement or something on it. If this does not work contact your garage for advice. Some wheelchair users may decide to try and leave the bus without the use of the ramp. Talk to the wheelchair user and work out the best option for them but do not put yourself or the wheelchair user in danger. Other passengers may be willing to help but always discuss this with the wheelchair user first.

...and I have to evacuate the bus with a wheelchair user on board

Evacuate all other passengers first and then call Code Red, explaining you have a wheelchair user on your bus. If the situation becomes dangerous and you need to get the wheelchair user off before help arrives, you must ask what help the wheelchair user needs before you attempt to move them. Get help from your passengers or other people nearby, if needed.

Which wheelchairs and mobility scooters are allowed on the bus?

Most manual and electric wheelchairs will fit into the space on London's buses. Motorised mobility scooters are different and only the more compact designs will fit into the wheelchair space. Use your discretion and allow this where possible. Some types of mobility scooter are too large to fit (for example, those with front and rear lights and hazard warning lights).

TfL has introduced a new identity card for users whose wheelchairs and mobility scooters will fit, please look out for these when presented.

If you refuse a mobility scooter because you think it will not fit, tell the user about the new card. They can find out more on the TfL website - tfl.gov.uk

Wheelchair and mobility scooter users travel free on London's buses.

For passengers without a mobility aid card, follow these guidelines to help you decide whether the mobility aid can fit:

Nearly all manual wheelchairs will fit

Nearly all electric wheelchairs will fit

Compact mobility scooters may fit

Large mobility scooters cannot be carried

Mobility walkers and shopping trolleys

Some passengers using wheeled mobility walkers or shopping trolleys may ask to use the centre doors and ramp to board and exit the bus. This is because it is the safest and easiest way for them to do so.

Extend the ramp if a passenger with a mobility walker or shopping trolley asks you or kneel the bus if this helps.

Getting help

We know things don't always run smoothly but we will do everything we can to ensure you are safe at work. If things do go wrong, CentreComm can get you help fast. This section contains details of the support services available as well as information to keep you safe.

CentreComm

CentreComm is London Buses' emergency command and control centre. Working side by side with the Metropolitan Police Service, it operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to monitor and support the bus network.

CentreComm helps you by:

- ◆ Managing your emergency calls and making sure the right help gets to you
- ◆ Working with the emergency services, other London Buses' staff, your company and you to ensure the service is safe at all times
- ◆ Monitoring more than 14,000 traffic cameras across London to help bus drivers in trouble and identify potential problems
- ◆ Diverting buses when there are problems ahead
- ◆ Receiving and dealing with accident and crime reports
- ◆ Working closely with the London Streets Traffic Control Centre to make sure buses are given priority when things do go wrong
- ◆ Working closely with the police to share information and prevent future problems by identifying trouble hotspots

Call Code Red when you need emergency help, for example, if:

- ◆ You or your passengers are threatened or in danger from a violent passenger or another road user
- ◆ A passenger is hurt or taken ill on your bus
- ◆ There is a disturbance on or off your bus – a fight, an argument about fares, pickpockets, ticket fraud or other anti-social behaviour
- ◆ Your bus is badly damaged, involved in an accident or broken down and causing an obstruction
- ◆ You see an incident that needs the emergency services, even if it doesn't involve your bus
- ◆ Someone is vandalising your bus
- ◆ The road ahead is blocked or you cannot continue your journey safely
- ◆ A passenger tells you they have been a victim of crime
- ◆ You have been told to go on diversion and are not sure where to go

Please see page 81 for guidance on dealing with suspicious packages

Call Code Blue when you need to report an incident that does not require immediate help, for example:

- ◆ A minor accident where no one is hurt. You should exchange details with the other party and continue your journey
- ◆ Your bus has broken down, but other traffic can get past
- ◆ Traffic light failure
- ◆ A bus stop or shelter has been damaged
- ◆ Something has happened on your bus (like graffiti or etching) but the people who did it have gone
- ◆ Someone has parked in the bus stop or bus lane, or a similar problem is making it difficult to continue your journey

If in doubt always call Code Red

Getting help fast

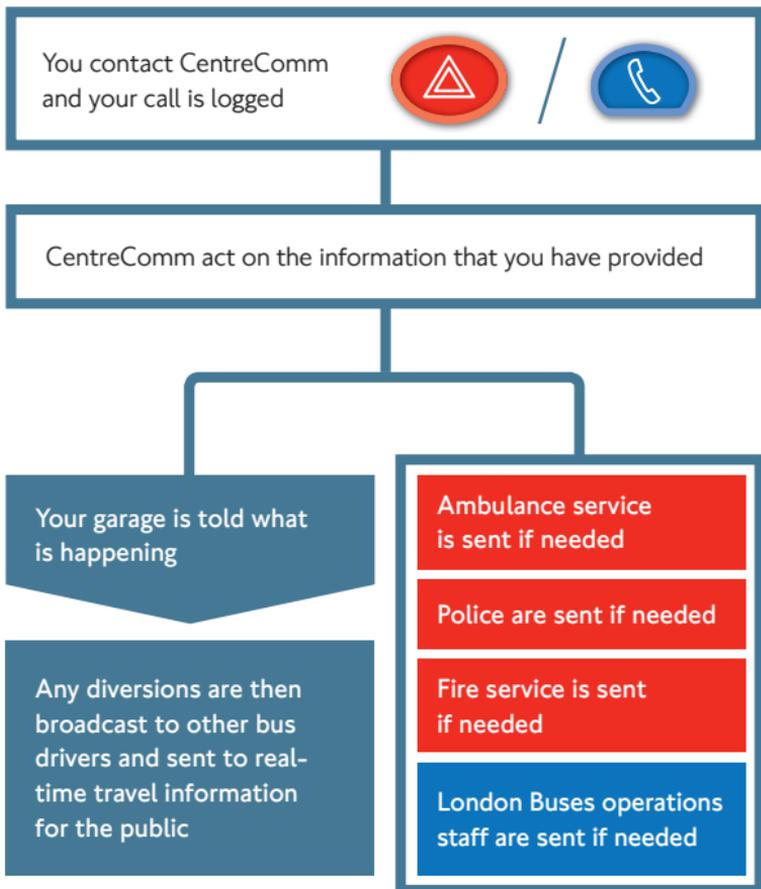

CentreComm is the fastest way to get help in an emergency. Follow these guidelines and you will get help more quickly:

- ◆ Tell CentreComm what has happened
- ◆ CentreComm will know where you are but be ready to confirm your location using streets/roads and junctions or local landmarks to help them find you
- ◆ You may be asked a few questions by CentreComm. This is because the emergency services need this information
- ◆ Use short, clear sentences. Do not shout instructions or give long explanations
- ◆ If you are cleared to go or the problem goes away, call Code Red again to cancel any call for emergency services – this will free them up to help other bus drivers

It is important that you tell CentreComm exactly what is happening when you call Code Red. For example, if a passenger has a knife or is threatening you, say so. Stay where you are and stay in the cab so you can answer a call from CentreComm if they need to call you back.

Remember to call Code Red again if the situation changes or the emergency services are no longer needed. This will make sure they are sent to where they are needed most.

Your call to CentreComm

Getting the help you need

The information you provide to CentreComm (and on Youth Data Forms) is used to target problem areas and develop long term strategy.

Even if the police do not attend an incident on your bus, every Code Red call is entered in to a database. This information is used to identify the best way to support you.

Police and Enforcement decide where to send:

- ◆ Police teams
- ◆ Traffic Enforcement teams

Departments of London Buses decide which:

- ◆ Stops and stands need attention
- ◆ Roadside trees need cutting back
- ◆ Other changes are required across the network

Bus Enforcement decide where to send:

- ◆ Individual RPIs
- ◆ Larger teams of RPIs with police support

Schools Liaison Team decide which schools to visit to:

- ◆ Talk to children about safe travel and respect for drivers
- ◆ Meet head teachers to talk about ongoing issues

Should I call 999?

No. Unlike CentreComm, the emergency service operators do not know the bus network, and it will take them longer to find you. We may also need to send London Buses' operations staff or let other bus drivers and garages know about an incident. Calling Code Red will get you the right sort of help more quickly.

Police on the road

Sometimes the police might approach you while you are on the road. Please comply with their requests but always check diversion routes with CentreComm as the police may not be aware of any height, weight, length or width restrictions on diversion routes which will affect your bus.

Low hanging branches or other obstacles

Let CentreComm know if you see any low hanging tree branches or obstacles on your route, and call Code Red if there is immediate danger or damage. In less urgent instances complete an occurrence report at your garage. TfL, the London Boroughs and other tree owners work together to ensure bus routes are safe.

Going on diversion

Official diversions provided by London Buses or CentreComm must be followed and are checked regularly to make sure they are safe for buses. If you go on an unofficial diversion, stop your bus, call Code Red, and let your passengers know using your PA system. See page 46 for details.

Identification Codes

These are used by the police and CentreComm to help identify individuals. Using these codes may help when you report an incident.

IC1: White European

IC2: Mediterranean European

IC3: Afro Caribbean/African

IC4: (South) Asian - Indian,
Pakistani, Sri Lankan, etc.

IC5: (East) Asian - Chinese,
Japanese, Korean, etc.

IC6: Arab

The phonetic alphabet

The phonetic alphabet is used by CentreComm, the police and other emergency services to ensure that details are taken down accurately. For example, it allows you to spell out a street name over the radio without misunderstandings. Refer to the table below when you make a call to CentreComm.

A lpha	J uliet	S ierra
B ravo	K ilo	T ango
C harlie	L ima	U niform

Should the worst happen

Avoiding conflict

Most of your trips will be trouble free, but occasionally, passengers want to take it out on you if they are having a bad day. This is not your fault and we want you to stay safe. Here are a few tips to keep you out of harm's way.

- ◆ Stay in your cab if you feel unsafe
- ◆ Look and listen for signs of anger; for example, a change of voice tone
- ◆ Be aware of your own tone of voice or body language. Do not use sarcasm as this will inflame the situation
- ◆ Assess the risk of harm to yourself and your passengers. If you are out of your cab for any reason, think about your exit route and if possible put some distance between you and the threatening passenger
- ◆ If passengers raise their voice at you politely but firmly ask, rather than tell, them to stop
- ◆ If a passenger is making a complaint, acknowledge their point and offer a genuine apology, even if you think it is not your fault. This will calm down most situations

- ◆ Try to offer the customer help or a 'way out' of the situation. For example, explain how they can complain to TfL if this is appropriate and point out the contact information on the main notice
 - ◆ If you feel threatened and unable to resolve the issue yourself, call Code Red immediately. CentreComm will tell you what to do and send help if necessary
 - ◆ Remember, you have the right to carry out your work without the fear of attack and this fact is widely publicised across the network

Workplace Violence Unit

If you are assaulted, the Workplace Violence Unit (WVU) can help you.

If you've called Code Red and the police attend, report the incident to them. If they are unable to attend you need to report the crime to the police. This can be done by calling 101 or by going to a police station and quoting the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) reference number given to you by CentreComm.

A member of police staff from the WVU will contact you.

The WVU will assist with the investigation of:

- ◆ Physical assaults
- ◆ Offences involving weapons and firearms
- ◆ Offences with aggravating factors (eg hate crime or cases with a sexual motive)
- ◆ Spitting (which lands on your skin – see below)

If you have been spat at you can use a DNA collection kit to collect a saliva sample. Saliva that lands on clothing or the assault screen could be contaminated by other DNA. Saliva samples from the skin give us the best chance of identifying the person who spat at you.

Radio use during major incidents

Bad weather, a terrorist attack or other major incidents will result in a need to limit radio use to essential calls only. This will ensure genuine emergency calls are dealt with quickly and effectively.

The instruction to limit radio use will be broadcast by CentreComm as a radio announcement. Essential calls will still be broadcast from CentreComm and Service Controllers to buses.

Do:

- ◆ Make emergency calls to CentreComm using Code Red
- ◆ Restrict your radio use as much as possible and ensure that your messages are short
- ◆ Look out for and use the text message facility on the iBus Mobile Data Terminal
- ◆ Listen carefully to all broadcast calls from CentreComm and your Service Controllers

Do not:

- ◆ Make non-emergency calls, use Code Blue or report weather or traffic conditions unless asked to do so

When the major incident is over, CentreComm will broadcast a message to all drivers.

Counter-terrorism

Be vigilant at all times, both on and off duty.

Suspicious packages

- ◆ Check the bus for unattended bags or packages:
 - ◇ Before leaving your garage
 - ◇ At the end of each journey
 - ◇ On arrival back at your garage
- ◆ Be aware of any unattended bag or package during the journey. Ask passengers if it belongs to them. If it does not, evacuate passengers from the bus and call Code Red from another bus radio at a safe distance away (50m – roughly the length of five buses)
- ◆ You can also call 999 using a landline. If you use a mobile phone make sure you are a safe distance away (as above we recommend you move 50m away – roughly the length of five buses)
- ◆ Do not try and move a suspicious package yourself
- ◆ Do not drive into a bus station

Suspicious people

If you see a passenger acting suspiciously (for example, if they are wearing heavy clothing during hot weather) or a passenger tips you off:

- ◆ Pull over safely (not at a bus stop)
- ◆ Evacuate passengers – tell them the bus has a problem
- ◆ Switch off the engine
- ◆ Call Code Red (only if the person is no longer on your bus and is at least 50m away – roughly the length of five buses)
- ◆ Stay at the scene to identify yourself when police arrive
- ◆ Be prepared to give a description of the suspicious person
- ◆ When you have been cleared by the police, call Code Red and let CentreComm know

If the suspicious person remains nearby, do not use a radio or mobile phone within 50m.

A driver's guide to ticketing

This guide gives you some basic information about ticketing on London's buses. Other ticketing information you may see includes:

A complete staff guide to ticketing on London's buses

A document available to your garage manager for reference with information for staff about the full range of bus tickets and passes.

Passes and tickets accepted on the London bus network

A poster showing the full range of bus tickets and passes.

This information is correct at time of printing, June 2012.

Oyster cards

- ◆ Listen for the beeps and watch your ticket machine screen
- ◆ Do not press the PASS button for a valid Oyster card – the card reader records it for you

Oyster fares you will see on the card reader

This may change – look out for publicity in your garage.

Adult (Including students over 18)		£1.35
Jobcentreplus travel discount card (any age) and Bus & Tram Discount Card		£0.65
16+ photocard	Londoners in full time education	Free
	Other 16 & 17 year olds	£0.65
11 - 15*		Free

* Under 11s do not need a photocard to travel free, but children who look 11 or over must show a valid ticket or touch their photocard on the reader.

Passengers using Oyster cards or Oyster photocard must touch their card flat on the yellow card reader when they board. If a passenger presents a card and nothing is displayed on your ETM screen, ask the passenger to try again. If the card keeps being rejected, the passenger will have to pay a cash fare.

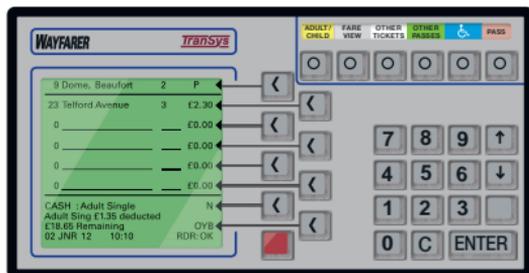

Oyster card validity

Valid

Green light on the reader and one short beep (or eight quick beeps for Oyster photocard used by under-16s).

The reader will show details of the card on both the passenger and driver displays:

Not valid

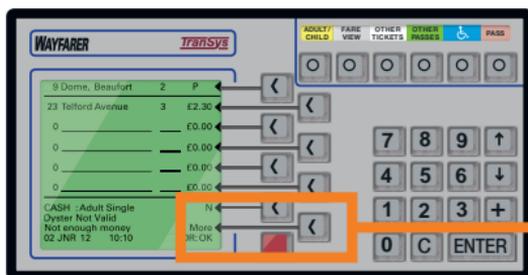

Red light on the reader and two low beeps.

Card communication failure

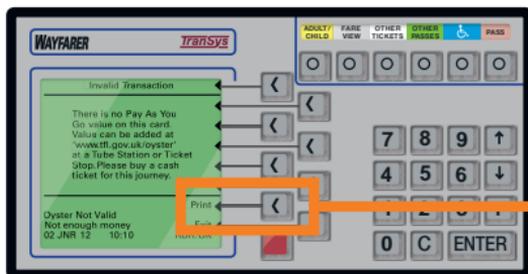

If the card is not touched flat on the yellow target of the card reader, the ticket machine may reject it and display 'Card Communication Failure'. Ask the passenger to try again. If the card keeps being rejected, the passenger will have to pay a cash fare.

Other Oyster card problems

The driver and passenger displays will show what is wrong:

To find out more, press the button by More

To print the information, press the button next to Print

You can give the printed information to the passenger to help them sort out the problem. If the passenger still wants to travel they will have to pay a cash fare.

Under 11s

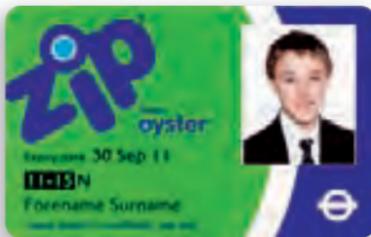

Under 11s travel free and do not need to show any ticket or pass to travel, unless they look older then they should use a 5-10 Oyster photocard.

11–18 year olds

- ◆ 11-15s – Oyster photocard to get free travel
- ◆ 11-15s (using an 11-15N Oyster photocard) pay half rate Oyster fares. See hints and tips, opposite
- ◆ 16+ (in full time education and live in London) – Oyster photocard to get free travel
- ◆ 16+ (not in full time education or do not live in London) – Oyster photocard to get half rate travel

Wearing a school uniform does not mean a young person is entitled to free travel. All must touch their Oyster photocard on the reader when boarding.

- ◆ An Oyster photocard application form by itself or a receipt is not a valid ticket
- ◆ If the card is not valid (red light, reader beeps twice) the holder should pay the full cash fare
- ◆ Oyster photocard holders that show 'N' (for example 11- 15N) do not allow free travel – holders pay half-rate Oyster fares. These are issued where the parent does not sign up to the behaviour code or the photocard holder has had free travel withdrawn

- ◆ 11- 15 year olds may show a Day Travelcard for travel – there is no need for an accompanying photocard

Freedom Passes

Freedom Passes are Oyster-style cards that allow Londoners who are aged 60 or over, and many disabled people of all ages, to travel free. These look similar to the English National Concessionary Scheme pass but clearly show 'Freedom Pass' instead of a County name.

Elderly person's Freedom Pass

Disabled person's Freedom Pass

Disabled person's Freedom Pass
(London only)

Remember that not all impairments are obvious, such as people with mental health issues. Only ask to see a passenger's card if you have a good reason to suspect it doesn't belong to them. Always ask politely.

If a Freedom Pass shows as 'not valid' on the card reader:

- ◆ Politely ask to see the passenger's card
- ◆ Check it is their photograph on the photocard
- ◆ Check the date on the Freedom Pass

If all looks OK, and the photocard is a true likeness, allow the passenger to travel – press the PASS button once – and advise them to get a replacement Freedom Pass.

- ◆ Elderly and Disabled persons' Freedom Passes are valid at any time
- ◆ Elderly and Disabled persons' Freedom Passes do not allow free travel for 'companions'
- ◆ Blind and other older or disabled people may need help in using the card reader. Do not insist they use the card reader if it causes them a problem. A blind person with a guide dog does not need to show any pass in order to travel
- ◆ Some people use a Disabled persons' Freedom Pass valid on London's buses only, as these are issued for reasons not covered by the national scheme

Passengers who buy a ticket on the bus

Do not press the PASS button if you sell a passenger a ticket on the bus.

Cash fares

This may change – look out for publicity in your garage.

The fare for anyone paying cash	£2.30
---------------------------------	-------

- ◆ Make sure you have a cash float to cover reasonable amounts presented by passengers during your shift
- ◆ Do not issue a cash fare inside the Pay Before You Board (PBYB) area
- ◆ Passengers can buy tickets from a Roadside Ticket Machine (RTM). They can see they are in a PBYB area from the yellow panel on bus stops

Tickets and passes that passengers show the driver

Press the PASS button once to record each passenger. This helps us to monitor the number of passengers using our services.

Bus Passes and Travelcards

There are a number of tickets and passes that passengers can use across the London bus network. You should look for the following:

Also check the expiry date. Tickets can be used up to 04:30 the next morning. For example, if it says '31 DMR', you can accept it until 04:30 on 1 January.

Day Travelcards

Under 16s can use a child rate Day Travelcard instead of an Oyster photocard. Anyone 16 or over must use an adult rate Day Travelcard.

Anytime Day Travelcards can be used from 00:01 on the day printed on the card until 04:30 on the following day. They are issued only on ordinary working days (Mondays–Fridays except public holidays).

Off-peak Day Travelcards can be used from 09:30 on Mondays–Fridays, and from 00:01 on Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays, on the day printed on the card until 04:30 on the following day.

Please note:

Some adults who care for disabled people are able to travel using a child-rate Day Travelcard. If you see an adult with a child-rate Day Travelcard and they are not accompanying a disabled person you should advise the passenger that you cannot accept their ticket for travel. They will need to pay a cash fare.

7 Day and longer period Travelcards

- ◆ Adults only need a photocard with a printed Travelcard lasting one month or longer
- ◆ Under 16s need a photocard with a printed Travelcard that lasts 7 days or longer

Tickets from Roadside Ticket Machines (RTMs)

RTMs issue Single Journey tickets. These are valid for one journey on one bus and must be used by the time printed on the ticket. RTMs no longer issue One Day Bus & Tram Passes.

- ◆ Check for a valid time and date on Single Journey tickets
- ◆ Passengers must keep their ticket for inspection

School Party Tickets

These are valid after 09:30 and before 16:30 on school days only. One ticket allows travel for a group of up to 10 school children aged 18 or under, with a maximum of two adults.

- ◆ If there are disruptions on the network, the return journey can start after 16:30
- ◆ Each group will only have one ticket, which they keep, but the button should be pressed for every member of the group

Temporary Authority to Travel Ticket (TATTs)

RPIs sometimes issue these to passengers after withdrawing a ticket or pass. The RPI will make the TATT valid by crossing out the sections that do not apply to the passenger, and will write on an expiry date.

Puppy Walkers

'Puppy Walkers' train guide dogs. They will not be blind themselves but are allowed to travel free with their puppy on either deck as long as they show you their pass. Passes will show 'Staff' or 'Volunteer'.

English National Concessionary Pass scheme

Older and disabled people across England can travel free anywhere on London's bus network with the English National Concessionary Pass. These passes look similar to Freedom Passes, but they do not work on Oyster readers so holders must show their pass.

Each pass includes:

- ◆ A red 'Tudor' rose logo
- ◆ A red ribbon St George's cross
- ◆ A hologram

Please note:

- ◆ Passes issued in Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales have different logos and images and are not valid for free travel on London's buses
- ◆ Older and disabled people's passes are not valid for free travel on trams, Tube, DLR, London Overground and National Rail services
- ◆ On TfL bus services, the English National Concessionary Pass is valid at any time just like the London Freedom Pass
- ◆ Drivers should press the OTHER PASSES button once to record each passenger with this kind of travel pass
- ◆ Some TfL bus routes that operate beyond Greater London may offer additional availability and free travel for companions. Drivers on those routes should check their fare charts for further information. Companions do not get free travel within Greater London

Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs)

Free travel is offered at all times with a Police Staff card and a red or blue Bus Pass. The Police Staff card on the left can only be used by itself if the holder is in full uniform.

Please note:

PCSOs are trained in particular skills that contribute to safer travel. If an incident occurs on the bus, PCSOs can:

- ◆ Act as witnesses if required
- ◆ Use their training in emergency life support, evidence gathering and communication with the public
- ◆ Help with calling the police or other emergency services

Parking/Council Attendant Staff Pass

Free travel with this pass only when the holder is in full uniform.

Police officers and special constables

Check warrant card (on the right).

Please note:

Free travel is offered at all times for these police forces only:

- ◆ British Transport
- ◆ City of London
- ◆ Essex
- ◆ Hertfordshire
- ◆ Kent
- ◆ Metropolitan
- ◆ Surrey
- ◆ Thames Valley

Bearer passes

Bearer passes must be shown with a valid identity card.

- ◆ Check expiry date
- ◆ Check that the ID card has the same name as the pass
- ◆ Watch out for similar passes saying 'Contractor' – only 'Bearer' passes are valid on buses

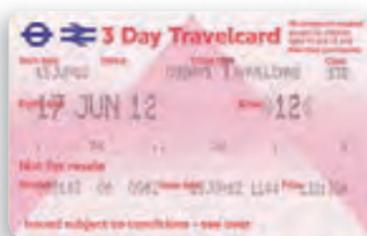

Still accepted but no longer on general sale

Bus & Tram Passes and Travelcards

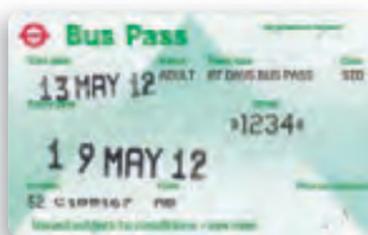

Where valid, these tickets must be accepted for travel:

One Day Bus & Tram Pass

3 Day Travelcard

7 Day Bus & Tram Pass

Saver tickets

- ◆ Keep the hexagonal part that says 'Staff receipt only' until the end of the trip. The exception to this is when an RPI boards the bus. You must give the staff receipts to him/her
- ◆ If there is a crew change during a trip, or passengers have to be transferred to another bus, give the staff receipts to the new driver
- ◆ At the end of the trip, tear the staff receipts in half completely and dispose of them in a bin

Tickets not normally accepted on buses

Tube, Docklands Light Railway (DLR) and rail-only tickets (either printed or handwritten) are not normally accepted on the London bus network.

You might have to accept these tickets when there is disruption on the Tube, rail or DLR. If this is the case, you will be told by CentreComm over your radio, and given a 'resolution number'. If there is a planned rail closure, a Fares Notice will be posted at your garage to say where tickets should be accepted.

What to do with a resolution number

A resolution number is used to prevent passengers from being overcharged when there is disruption on the Tube.

On your ETM, press the red button twice

- ◆ Select 'End Journey' and sign on to the ticket machine again
- ◆ As you sign on, 'LUL Resolution?' will come up on the screen. Press the 'up' arrow to select 'Y'
- ◆ Type in the number you have been given when the screen says 'LUL No'
- ◆ Until the disruption is over, answer 'Y' to 'LUL Resolution?' when you sign on to the ticket machine for next trip

Passengers who do not need to show a ticket

Children under 11

Press the  button once to record each passenger.

Children under 11 do not need to show a ticket or photocard, unless they look older. See page 91.

Blind and partially sighted people with guide dogs

Press the  button once to record each passenger.

Blind and partially sighted people with guide dogs do not need to show a ticket or photocard. Blind and partially sighted people without guide dogs also travel free, but should have an Oyster-style freedom pass or English National pass.

Wheelchair users

Press the  button once to record each passenger in a wheelchair or mobility scooter.

Wheelchair users do not need to show a ticket or photocard. However, companions to wheelchair users do not automatically travel free – they must have a valid ticket or pass.

Unpaid Fare Notices, Pass Withdrawal Envelopes and Youth Data Forms

Issue an Unpaid Fare Notice (UFN) when:

- ◆ A passenger is distressed or potentially vulnerable and not able to buy a ticket
- ◆ A faulty RTM has taken a passenger's money without issuing a ticket
- ◆ You have tried your best and you feel threatened by a hostile passenger who cannot or will not pay their fare

Further information is printed on the inside front and back covers of the yellow UFN pad. Make sure you have a cash float to cover reasonable amounts presented by passengers during your shift.

How to use UFNs

- ◆ Always fill in the driver section completely including the date, time, route number and full location. Make sure that you tick a 'reason for issue' box and add extra information on the back if you feel it would be helpful. This helps us to identify routes and times that RPIs should be targeting
- ◆ Tear off the bottom part of the UFN and give it to the passenger. They must pay their unpaid fare within five days
- ◆ Hand in the top part of the UFN at your garage at the end of that day's duty

When to complete a Youth Data Form (YDF)

When under 18s (groups or individuals) board your bus and do not touch in – or pay a fare – it may not be possible to issue them with UFNs. Use the blue YDFs to record what happened. This data is useful for recording the problems you face with youths or schools.

The more detail we have the more TfL and the police can help.

Further information is printed on the back of each YDF.

How to use a YDF

- ◆ Always fill in the date, time, full location and route number; plus the school name if you know it. This information helps us to identify routes and times that RPIs should be targeting
- ◆ Hand in any completed YDFs at your garage at the end of that day's duty

If an RPI gets on your bus, tell them if you have issued any Unpaid Fare Notices, customer copies of Pass Withdrawal Envelopes or filled in any Youth Data Forms on that trip.

Use of farestages

Following changes to ETM software (date to be advised) this section will no longer apply.

Set the correct destination stage at the start of each trip.

You should update farestages

- ◆ If you are turned short of your original destination
- ◆ At Pay Before You Board area boundaries
- ◆ On routes outside Greater London, where County or District Council passes or special fares apply
- ◆ As directed by your company

Always select the final farestage before you 'End Journey'.

Paper fare charts provided for each route show the stage numbers to be used on ticket machines, including those to be used when a trip is turned short of its original destination.

Acceptable coins and notes

Scottish and Northern Irish Bank notes must be accepted. Notes from the Isle of Man, Channel Islands and Gibraltar must be accepted but coins from these places are not accepted. Foreign money – including the Euro – must not be accepted.

Drivers must accept coins up to these limits:

Bronze coins (1p and 2p)	up to 20p
Silver 5p and 10p	up to £5
Silver 20p and 50p	up to £10
£1 and £2 coins	No limit
£5 commemorative coins	No limit

Above these limits, you can accept more small change as payment of a fare to help customers. However, you should not exceed these legal limits when giving change.

Helpful ticketing information

Problems with paying

There are fewer types of printed ticket than in previous years. Oyster cards make things easier for everyone. Here are some typical problems you might come up against and how to deal with them.

What if..?

...a passenger cannot or will not pay:

- ◆ Do not allow them to travel. Be polite but firm
- ◆ Do not put yourself at risk. Do not leave anyone stranded if they are vulnerable, obviously in distress, or if you do not feel comfortable challenging the passenger. In this situation – if you have to let them travel – issue an Unpaid Fare Notice (UFN)

What if...?

... a passenger presents an invalid ticket or pass

- ◆ Point out the problem and explain they need to pay a cash fare
- ◆ In a few cases, you can withdraw the pass. The only time you should withdraw a ticket or pass is if it is not valid. For example, if it has been 'stopped', damaged, copied, is out of date, or transferred (passback)
- ◆ Barclaycard Oyster cards are different – you must never withdraw them because they are the customer's credit/debit card as well as their ticket
- ◆ Never withdraw a card if it has failed. Advise the passenger that they need to pay a cash fare and should get it replaced immediately
- ◆ If they just need more money on their Oyster card, do not withdraw the card, simply explain that they need to pay a cash fare
- ◆ Always be polite and never accuse anyone of fraud. The passenger might not have realised their pass is out of date or out of credit

... a passenger offers payment and you do not have enough change

- ◆ Make sure you have a cash float to cover reasonable amounts presented by passengers, as this ensures you can give change and will mean you have fewer problems
- ◆ If change cannot be provided for a £10, £20 or £50 note then politely but firmly explain they cannot travel on your bus
- ◆ If you know of regular offenders tendering large notes, report this to your garage using your company procedures and we will let our Revenue Protection teams know
- ◆ If an RPI boards your bus and you have allowed somebody to travel without giving change, let them know before they complete their checks and explain you did your best
- ◆ If the passenger seems vulnerable or obviously in distress then issue a UFN and allow them to travel

What if...?

... a passenger aged 11-18 claims free travel without an Oyster photocard

- ◆ Explain that they must touch their Oyster photocard on the reader to get free travel
- ◆ If they do not have a valid ticket or Oyster card, ask them to pay an adult cash fare
- ◆ If they refuse to pay, you can refuse to take them
- ◆ Use your common sense and do not leave lone children stranded if they are in a vulnerable position or in obvious distress – issue a UFN
- ◆ If there are too many under 18s to stop them all, use the blue Youth Data Form (YDF) to tell us where the problems are, or call Code Red if you feel unsafe

... my ticket machine breaks down

- ◆ Report it immediately so it can be replaced quickly
- ◆ You must use your emergency ticket pack to collect any cash fares received. Fill in your 'reason for use' at the end of your duty
- ◆ Ask a supervisor if you are unsure or if you have any problems

...my Oyster card reader breaks down

- ◆ Report it immediately so it can be replaced quickly
- ◆ If the card reader is not working or is not fitted, allow all passengers with Oyster cards to travel without having to pay
- ◆ People without Oyster cards still need to pay or show valid travel documents in the usual way

...my bus breaks down or is turned

- ◆ If your bus breaks down, or is turned short of its original destination, passengers can transfer onto any other London bus service going the same way
- ◆ Issue an inspector's ticket for '9999' and give it to the driver of the bus picking up your passengers. You may have to do this with more than one bus, until all of your passengers have been picked up
- ◆ Try to make sure all your passengers are safely aboard another bus
- ◆ Remind passengers with Oyster cards that they should not touch their card on the card reader when boarding the second bus

What if...?

... a passenger's Oyster card is not working properly

- ◆ If the card is not working, there is little you can do to solve the problem, but always be patient and polite. Ask the passenger to try again, touching their card flat on the yellow target of the reader. If it still does not work, use the information on the card reader display to explain what is wrong and print it out if necessary
- ◆ Passengers can get help to sort the problem out at:
 - ◇ tfl.gov.uk/oyster
 - ◇ Tube stations
 - ◇ The Oyster helpline on 0845 330 9876
- ◆ If the passenger still wants to travel they will have to pay the cash fare. In the Pay Before You Board (PBYB) area, passengers must buy tickets before they board. On low frequency routes, wait for them to buy their ticket from the RTM. On high frequency services, wait for them if you have time
- ◆ Freedom Pass holders do not have to pay if their card is not working, as long as you have checked the expiry date and their photocard is a true likeness – except if it has been stopped

... a passenger says there should be more money on their Oyster card?

- ◆ It could be for a number of reasons and there is little you can do. They must pay a fare if they want to travel and contact the Oyster Helpline or their card issuer to sort out the problem. A receipt is not valid for travel
- ◆ In the PBYB area, passengers must buy tickets off-bus, for example from an RTM

... a passenger says the RTM is not working

- ◆ If the RTM is showing a red light, it is not working
- ◆ If possible, take the passenger to the next bus stop so they can buy their ticket from another RTM. If this is not possible, or if they have already lost their money in the RTM, issue an Unpaid Fare Notice (UFN)

... a Revenue Protection Inspector (RPI) gets on my bus

- ◆ If you think someone may have been trying to avoid paying a fare, let the RPI know when he/she gets on the bus

What if...?

... I issue a ticket but the passenger changes their mind about travelling on my bus

- ◆ If you cannot cancel the ticket, the ticket must not be sold later on. You must put a cross on the front of the ticket or tear it in half and hand it in to your garage at the end of your duty. Please follow your company procedures

... a passenger wants to know where to buy tickets and Oyster cards, or where to get a refund

- ◆ Advise them to ask at:
 - ◇ Oyster Ticket Stops
 - ◇ Tube stations
 - ◇ London Travel Information Centres
- ◆ They can also:
 - ◇ Visit TfL's website – tfl.gov.uk
 - ◇ Call 24-hour travel information – 0843 222 1234
 - ◇ Call the Oyster helpline – 0845 330 9876

Glossary

Advanced Stop Box (ASB) – At junctions, this is an area at the top of a road where cyclists can wait at the front of traffic. All other vehicles, including buses, should not stop in this box (see page 45).

Assistance dogs – Specially trained dogs that help disabled people to travel more independently. All assistance dogs are welcomed onto London's buses. There is no limit on the number you can allow on your bus (see page 55).

Barclays Cycle Hire – Cycles provided by TfL that can be hired by users from docking stations in central and east London.

Barclays Cycle Superhighways – In some parts of London, cycle routes are marked out in blue to help provide a clearer, direct and continuous route for cyclists.

Bus Station Controller (BSC) – TfL staff who help to maintain safe operation in and around bus stations.

Bus stand – A place away from the bus route where a bus may stand. The bus engine should be switched off upon arrival.

CentreComm – London Buses' emergency command and control centre. It operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to monitor the bus network. CentreComm is the fastest way to get help in an emergency (see page 68).

Close Circuit Television (CCTV) – Cameras are fitted in various places on London's buses to digitally record visual images for safety, security and crime prevention.

Code Blue – When you need to report an incident (not an emergency) press the blue button on your MDT to call CentreComm (see page 70).

Code Red – When you need emergency help, press the red button on your MDT to call CentreComm (see page 69).

Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) reference number – If you are a victim of crime, you will be given a CAD reference number by the police, which is then used to refer to your case (see page 79).

Curtailement – You may be asked to turn your bus short of its usual destination, by a bus company official, a TfL official or the police. Where this happens, you should inform your passengers using the PA.

English National Concessionary Scheme (ENCS) pass – Issued outside London, these passes allow free travel across England for older and disabled passengers. The issuing area is shown on the top right hand corner (see page 101).

Electronic Ticket Machine (ETM) – The standard ticket machine, plus Oyster card reader, used on all buses that operate on London's bus network.

Freedom Pass – Similar to the ENCS pass, these allow generally free travel across England for older and disabled London residents. The words 'Freedom Pass' appear on the top right hand corner (see page 93).

iBus – The system that supports the MDT, which allows your bus company, TfL and others (where necessary) to know where you are. It also provides the information for audio and visual stop announcements on your bus.

iBus Pre-recorded announcements – Another feature of iBus is a set of pre-recorded automated announcements to support you, such as 'Seats are available on the upper deck' and 'Can passengers please make space in the wheelchair area' (see pages 40, 49).

Kneel the bus – The facility to lower the bus so that your entry and exit doors are nearer to the height of the kerb. It may help an older or disabled person to board or alight if you lower the nearside of the bus before you open the doors.

Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) – The standard iBus radio unit fitted to all buses that operate on London's bus network.

Mobility aid card – A card that helps you to know the holder is using an approved mobility aid that can be taken onto the bus. This will be used mainly by mobility scooter users (see page 61).

Network Traffic Controller (NTC) – TfL staff who help with incidents and emergencies that affect London's bus network.

Oxygen cylinder – A portable oxygen cylinder that helps the user with their breathing, generally carried in a bag. You should allow passengers carrying oxygen cylinders to board the bus (see page 30).

Pay Before You Board (PBYPB) area – An area within Central London where passengers have to buy cash tickets from an Roadside Ticket Machine instead of on the bus. Stops within this area have a yellow panel and route numbers with a yellow background (see pages 95, 98).

Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) – A member of police staff who can assist and support you with issues on your route. Some of their powers are similar to those of a police officer and they are trained in particular skills such as evidence gathering and communication with the public.

Public Address (PA) system – Every MDT fitted to a bus includes a microphone that allows you to make announcements to your passengers. This is particularly useful for example, before you go on diversion (see page 46).

Report it – Roadworks should be tidy, safe, have clear signage to explain what is happening, and take up as little space as possible. If you see any roadworks that are not reaching these standards, you can report them at tfl.gov.uk/roadworks or by tweeting @report_it with the hashtag #roadworks

Resolution number – A three digit number that you enter into the ticket machine to prevent Oyster users from being overcharged when there is disruption on Tube or rail services (see page 109).

Revenue Protection Inspector (RPI) – TfL staff who are employed to ensure passengers are paying the right fares and using the correct tickets (see page 124).

Roadside Ticket Machine (RTM) – Within the Pay Before You Board area, passengers buy cash tickets from an RTM rather than from the driver (see pages 95, 98).

Transport for London (TfL) – TfL is the integrated body responsible for the Capital's transport system. Its role is to implement the Mayor's Transport Strategy and manage transport services across London, for which the Mayor has ultimate responsibility.

TfL manages London's buses, London Underground (LU), the Docklands Light Railway (DLR), London Overground and London Trams. It also runs London River Services (LRS), Victoria Coach Station (VCS) and the London Transport Museum. TfL manages a 580km network of main roads, all of London's 6,000 traffic lights, regulates taxis and the private hire trade and runs Barclays Cycle Hire.

Travel Support Card – A card that allows the holder to write down key information which helps them explain their transport need and gives the holder more confidence. For example, this may be used by someone with learning difficulties (see page 56).

Workplace Violence Unit (WVU) – A partnership between Transport for London (TfL) and the Metropolitan Police Service dedicated to the investigation of assaults (including spitting) on front-line bus staff (see page 79).
