NR Tickets – valid on the tube?

7 day or longer Travelcards issued by NR require a photocard

Some NR tickets are valid for travel on the Underground

These tickets will have an R, U, or + on them.

- R is found on National Rail Travelcards and is followed by the zones where the ticket is valid
- RI valid only in zone 1 or R2-6 valid for travel in zones 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6
- U is for Underground and is on single or return tickets
- + is for cross London transfers and are valid for one unbroken journey on the Underground for a single ticket
- Return tickets will allow two unbroken journeys

If these symbols are not on the National Rail ticket then the customer must buy an LU ticket for the Underground part of their journey.

NOTE: However NR do issue some tickets worded London Terminals to specific stations eg Seven Sisters this ticket would be valid on London Underground New NR tickets.

From 20th March 2015 NR began to introduce new paper ticket stock. The cross transfer symbol can now be a + or

The new layout only applies to single and return tickets initially. It will apply to Travelcards in future and further information will be issued nearer the time.
